We still have Coco-Bella in rescue. We had her evaluated by an animal behaviorist and she agreed with our assessment in regards to Coco. Coco has learned that acting tough and growling were very effective methods in letting her have her own way. Justine says that Coco still grumbles quite a bit when her nails are trimmed, but now puts up with face cleaning without making a fuss. So progress is being made, but she needs owners who are not intimidated by her bluff and bluster. The behaviorist assured us that in the right home, she should do just fine.

Coco is actually a very affectionate dog and loves attention. However, she is not a dog for a novice dog owner. She also needs a home without kids or cats and preferably a fenced yard. So far, no one has turned up that meets all these criteria. There are a lot of applications in the BCARN database for Minnesota, but after selecting for all her "special needs", the list of "qualified applicants" dwindled considerably. I have contacted a few people about Coco, but none that looked suitable ever responded. That happens sometime as many people get impatient and end up looking in the newspaper or getting a different breed of dog from a shelter if the wait is more than a few weeks.

Max is our latest foster dog. He is a big boy, but well mannered. He gets along with dogs and kids of all ages and has no health issues aside from some mild food allergies that a diet change seems to have helped. Max came from a good home with loving owners, but their lives were becoming busier as they were traveling a lot and couldn't always take Max with them. They felt Max deserved a home where he would get more attention than they could provide. They didn't want Max going to "just anyone" and felt a rescue group could do a better job of finding him a great home than they could do on their own.

Dogs like Max are obviously easier to place because they can go to more kinds of homes. Max will be going to live with a retired couple and they have had Bulldogs for most of their adult lives. He will be getting plenty of attention and should do very well in his new home.

Fundraiser Info:

If you have need of a spare calendar, we will have some nice Bulldog-themed ones available at the March meetup for a $5 donation. And don't forget about the upcoming Silent Auction in May. If you have anything to donate, you can bring it to the March Wrinkle Time or just bring it along to the picnic in May. Questions? Contact Marcia at: shortlilme@msn.com

Muldoon lived alone in the Irish countryside with only a pet dog for company. One day the dog died, and Muldoon went to the parish priest and asked, 'Father, me dog is dead. Could ya' be saying' A mass for the poor creature?'

Father Patrick replied, 'I'm afraid not; we cannot have services for an animal in the church. But there are some Baptists down the lane, and there's no tellin' what they believe. Maybe they'll do something for the creature.'

Muldoon said, 'I'll go right away Father. Do ya' think $5,000 is enough to donate to them for the service?'

Father Patrick exclaimed, 'Sweet Mary and Joseph. Why didn't ya tell me the dog was Catholic?'

Andy takes himself very seriously as the Squirrel Guard!

- ◆ You aren't so tough when you are up there!
- ◆ Hug a Tree, Save The Planet... Arbor Day
- ◆ What goes up must come down. I'll be waiting right here!!
- ◆ Stop dropping leaves on my head!
- ◆ I'm as tall as you are!
- ◆ Can I have this dance?
- ◆ You come down here this instant, you hear me, I know you hear me, get down here.
- ◆ If only I was a little taller I could make it to the top.
- ◆ 1, 2, 3... How high do I have to count before I can come and find you?
- ◆ I've always wanted to be a lumbrjack.
- ◆ I'm barking up the right tree, right?
- ◆ That squirrel is not getting past me.
- ◆ So that's what a *tree hugger* looks like!
- ◆ Hey cat, I'll catch you if you fall.
- ◆ Come down here and fight like a dog!
